All K-8 students at risk of retention for failing to meet grade level proficiency standards will be identified. Through an after-school tutoring program, certified teachers will provide instruction using an evidenced-based program (Classworks) and a multisensory approach to learning to target specific skills identified through data reviews. Progress toward identified goals will be communicated weekly to parents. Students will be allowed to exit the program when the identified deficiencies are remediated to grade-level proficiency standards. Students who continue to demonstrate a deficiency at the end of the school year will transition from an after-school program to a summer program using the same curriculum and content delivery methods in a summer school setting.

How will the LEA plan for implementation and measure impact for effectiveness for purchases identified?

Brewton City Schools' plan consists of analyzing students' diagnostic assessments to identify persons in need of additional instruction in specific areas. Prior to implementation, central office and local schools administrator meetings will be held to ensure an effective implementation model that is well understood and communicated. During implementation, progress monitoring will validate program effectiveness to teachers, administrators and parents. After implementation, student data will be assessed to determine growth in their identified areas of deficiencies and readiness for promotion.

What is the proposed timeline for providing services and assistance to students and staff?

Brewton City Schools' proposed timeline is from April 2021 until August 2021 for providing services and assistance to students and staff. Unused funds, if any, will be applied to a continuation of the previously described after-school program once the 2021-2022 school year begins. All services will conclude by September 30, 2022
