How will the LEA determine the most important educational needs as a result of COVID-19?

Decatur City Schools developed a task force consisting of administrators and supervisors to determine the most important educational needs resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic. This task force met numerous times and outlined several areas that need immediate attention.

Decatur City Schools will administer a pre-assessment to students during the months of July and August 2020 to determine reading and math proficiency. We will provide targeted small group instruction to address academic deficits and to accelerate learning opportunities for students identified via the pre-assessment. DCS will follow the system-wide pacing guides which are in alignment with the state's academic content standards and administer common assessments to determine academic growth or areas in need of improvement. For any areas in need of improvement, instructional plans will be developed. Additionally, DCS will conduct data meetings (in person and/or virtually) to continue to monitor student achievement.
